Introduction

Welcome

Welcome to MH Construction Inc.! The purpose of this employee handbook is to briefly outline the business services provided by MH Construction Inc., provide you with a general understanding of the policies by which MH Construction Inc. operates, and provide an outline of the procedures to be followed by each employee to maintain a smooth running, professional, and profitable operation.

A strong and productive MH Construction Inc. team can be achieved by strong working relationships, based on mutual respect and understanding. A system of established policies and practices provides the foundation for these relationships.

This employee handbook has been prepared to provide you with general information about the policies, procedures, and benefits of MH Construction Inc.. Contact your supervisor for more detailed information.

Company Culture

MH Construction Inc. employees are expected to contribute to a safe and healthy work environment that promotes cooperative working relationships based on mutual respect and understanding. Because each role is important to the overall success of MH Construction Inc., all employees are asked to complete their assigned task skillfully and efficiently.

Disclaimer

This handbook has been prepared as a guide to policies, benefits, and general information which should assist you during your employment with MH Construction Inc., however, nothing contained herein is intended to be a contract of employment or contractual duty between MH Construction Inc. and any of its employees. This handbook may be changed, amended, revised, or discontinued as deemed appropriate by the management of MH Construction Inc. Changes may be made with or without advance notice to employees. This handbook is a summary of the policies, benefits, and procedures of MH Construction Inc. and is neither all-inclusive nor intended to anticipate and address each specific circumstance which may arise.

Company Policies

Equal Employment Opportunity

MH Construction Inc. shall provide Equal Employment Opportunity to all employees and applicants for employment in accordance with all applicable Equal Employment/Affirmative Action laws, directives and regulations of Federal, State, and Local governing bodies or agencies. MH Construction Inc. will not discriminate against or harass any employee or applicant for employment on the basis of race, color, creed, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, disability, age, marital status, or status with regard to public assistance. MH Construction Inc. will take affirmative action to ensure that all practices are free of such discrimination. Such employment practices include, but are not limited to, the following: hiring, upgrading, demotion, transfer, recruitment or recruitment advertising, selection, layoff, disciplinary action, termination, rates of pay or other forms of compensation, and selection for training.

MH Construction Inc. supports the policies of the Americans with Disabilities Act and is committed to treating all applicants and employees with disabilities in accordance with the requirements of that act.

Anti-Harassment and Discrimination Policy

It is the policy of MH Construction Inc. to foster an environment of respect for the dignity and worth of all its employees. Because incidents of harassment are demeaning to all persons involved and impair the ability of MH Construction Inc. to perform its functions, MH Construction Inc. will not tolerate any conduct that sexually, physically, or emotionally harasses another employee by intimidation, retaliation, verbal abuse, or in any other way that demeans or discriminates against any employee.

Harassing behavior has the effect of creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work environment and is prohibited in the workplace, whether committed by supervisory or non-supervisory personnel.

Harassing conduct includes, but is not limited to, unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and all other verbal or physical conduct of an offensive sexual nature. Especially where such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly, a term or condition of employment or rejection of such conduct is used as the basis for decisions affecting an individual's employment, evaluation, wages, advancement, assigned duties, shifts, other conditions of employment or career development. Harassing behavior may include offensive and derogatory comments, jokes, e-mails, innuendoes, graphic verbal comments about an individual's body, degrading words used to describe an individual, or displaying or having possession of sexually suggestive objects or pictures in the workplace.

Any employee who believes he or she has been harassed should immediately notify his or her supervisor or President. All complaints and related information will be investigated and kept confidential to the extent possible without compromising an investigation. Any employee who is found, after appropriate investigation, to have engaged in any type of harassment will be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination.

Non-Violence Policy

MH Construction Inc. is committed to maintaining a workplace that is free of violence. The safety and security of our employees is of the utmost importance. Acts of violence or threats of violence will not be tolerated and will result in disciplinary action up to and including termination.

Drug and Alcohol Use Policy

MH Construction Inc. employees are expected to report for duty in a manner that provides for public safety and efficient performance. The possession, use, distribution, manufacture or sale of alcohol and/or controlled substances is prohibited. An employee is prohibited from having alcohol and/or controlled substances in a company and/or personal vehicle on jobsite. An employee may not work while under the influence of alcohol and/or a controlled substance. Employees violating this policy may be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination.

Prohibited drug use may include over-the-counter medication when it is used in a manner inconsistent with its intended use and/or, affects the performance of the employee.

The use of alcoholic beverages during working hours or lunch breaks is strictly prohibited, no alcoholic beverages are allowed on any MH Construction Inc.'s job site or company properties, including the office locations and warehouses.

As a condition of continued employment, employees may be required to undergo random alcohol and drug screening. An alcohol and/or drug screening may also be required in the event an employee is party to a workplace injury that results in damage to themselves, a fellow employee, or company property. Failure to take part in a drug or alcohol screening may be cause for termination.

Non-Smoking Policy

MH Construction Inc. endeavors to provide a safe and healthy working environment for all employees and therefore prohibits smoking in any location other than designated areas, including company buildings, job sites and company vehicles. Employees who violate this policy may be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination.

Dress Code

MH Construction Inc. expects that each employee's appearance will be consistent with a professional image. All employees are expected to dress in attire appropriate to their position and duties. Clothing should be neatly laundered, and all employees must practice good hygiene. No earrings or other jewelry which may be considered a safety concern in the field by the immediate supervisor may be worn during work hours for field employees.

Field employees are expected to wear clothing consistent with OSHA/WISHA rules for jobsite safety including long pants, sturdy and rugged work shoes (no tennis shoes on a job site), and any other safety gear required by the job superintendent.

Office employees should wear appropriate, non-revealing clothing that would be considered professional by most standards.

Code of Conduct

MH Construction Inc. requires all employees to comply with all company policies and directives. Employees are to perform their duties in a cooperative and efficient manner demonstrating high regard for work habits, attitude, production, and personal conduct.

MH Construction Inc. expects employees to refrain from discussing contentious topics or personal topics involving other employees, and salary amounts. Every employee is expected to conduct themselves professionally at all times.

Whether you are a current employee or a former employee of MH Construction Inc., under no circumstances may you use, transfer or convey by any means including e-mail: equipment, purchased software, computer software developed by yourself or another employee, customer lists, any other company-owned materials or intellectual property belonging to MH Construction Inc., or use such for other employment or for the benefit of any other company or person outside of the company without express written permission of President. Personal use of property belonging to MH Construction Inc. may be authorized for the benefit of an employee under special circumstances.

Employees should leave valuable personal items at home. MH Construction Inc. cannot be responsible for the loss, theft, or damage of any personal property brought to the office.

MH Construction Inc. management works hard to accurately analyze the value of various job tasks, educational requirements, and experience. Your proficiency at your job and that job's value to the company determines your pay. Anyone accessing payroll records without specific authorization will be subject to immediate termination.

Nothing destroys company morale more than gossip. Management will not tolerate negative discussions amongst employees about management or other employees. Reports of such conduct may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination. If you have a question about an event or a policy, go directly to your supervisor and ask for clarification.

Bereavement Leave Policy

MH Construction Inc. understands that the loss of a loved one is a profoundly distressing experience. Our bereavement policy aims to support employees during this difficult time by providing necessary time off to grieve, attend funeral services, and manage related affairs.

Eligibility

All full-time employees who have completed their probationary period are eligible for paid bereavement leave.

Dependent Bereavement Leave

A dependent is defined as an immediate family member, which includes, but is not limited to, a spouse, domestic partner, child, parent, or sibling.

Employees are entitled to 5 working days for the death of an immediate family member and 5 working days for the death of a child.

Non-Dependent Bereavement Leave

A non-dependent is defined as an extended family member, which includes, but is not limited to, a cousin, aunt, uncle, niece, or nephew, as well as close friends or family friends.

Discretionary leave up to 5 days may be taken.

Miscarriage Support

Recognizing the emotional impact of a miscarriage, the company provides 5 working days of special leave for such circumstances.

Notification Process

Employees should inform their direct supervisor of their need for bereavement leave as soon as possible. Documentation such as a death certificate may be requested to process the leave.

Additional Leave Options

Employees may use their annual leave entitlements in conjunction with bereavement leave.

Unpaid leave may also be available for extended periods of bereavement, subject to managerial approval.

Transition Back to Work

MH Construction Inc. supports a phased return to work for employees following bereavement, considering individual readiness and capacity to resume work.

Health and safety considerations

The impact of bereavement on an employee's concentration and wellbeing will be considered in health and safety assessments, especially for roles requiring high levels of attention or operating machinery.

Cultural considerations

The company recognizes and respects the diverse cultural practices and beliefs surrounding death and grief. Employees are encouraged to communicate any specific needs or observances required during their time of bereavement.

This policy is a living document and will be reviewed periodically to ensure it remains relevant and sensitive to the needs of all employees. It also serves as a testament to MH Construction's commitment to creating a supportive and understanding work environment.

Sick Leave Policy

All employees of MH Construction are entitled to sick leave pay. Sick leave accrues from the 1st day of employment at a rate of 1 hour per 40 hours worked. Sick leave is available to begin to use after 90 days of employment.

- Sick leave can be used for the following reasons:
 - An absence resulting from an employee's mental or physical illness, injury, or health condition; to accommodate the employee's need for medical diagnosis, care, or treatment of a mental or physical illness, injury, or health condition; or an employee's need for preventive medical care;
 - To allow the employee to provide care for a family member with a mental or physical illness, injury, or health condition; care of a family member who needs medical diagnosis, care, or treatment of a mental or physical illness, injury, or health condition; or care for a family member who needs preventive medical care;
 - When the employee's place of business has been closed by order of a public official for any health-related reason, or when an employee's child's school or place of care has been closed for such a reason; and
 - For absences that qualify for leave under the state's Domestic Violence Leave Act (DVLA). For more information, please see L&I's overview of the DVLA.
- Covered family members shall mean the following:
 - A child, including a biological, adopted, or foster child, stepchild, or a child to whom the employee stands in loco parentis, is a legal guardian, or is a de facto parent, regardless of age or dependency status;
 - A biological, adoptive, de facto, or foster parent, stepparent, or legal guardian of an employee or the employee's spouse or registered domestic partner, or a person who stood in loco parentis when the employee was a minor child;
 - A spouse, a registered domestic partner, a grandparent, a grandchild; or a sibling.

Sick leave shall carry over from prior years of service, however, only a max of 40 hours can carry over. Upon separation, sick leave shall not be reimbursed to the employee.

Any employee needing to use more than 3 consecutive days of sick leave shall provide physician verification that the purpose meets the policy.

Sick leave that occurs immediately before or after requested time off shall require physician verification that the purpose meets the policy

Proper notice is required, whether sick or not, for unscheduled absences from work so that the time off does not become “unexcused absence”. You must notify your manager prior to start of work if you are going to be absent from work for any of the reasons above. If the absence was scheduled and/or reasonable time could have been provided for the manager, more than what was given, to cover the absence then disciplinary action may be taken.

Scheduled time away from work for things like doctor’s appointments etc., must be properly arranged with your manager and notice must be given of when you are leaving and when you are back so that accurate sick leave time can be recorded.

Company Property Policy

If you leave your employment with MH Construction Inc., under no circumstances may you use, remove, or fail to return any MH Construction Inc. equipment, tools, purchased software, software developed by yourself or another employee, customer lists, any other company owned materials or intellectual property belonging to MH Construction Inc. without the express written permission of the President. Final checks will not be distributed until all company property is accounted for, or management has come to an agreement to release final paycheck.

Confidentiality Policy

MH Construction Inc. requires all employees to sign a confidentiality and non-disclosure agreement as a condition of employment, due to the possibility of being privy to information that is confidential and/or intended for the company’s use only. This policy benefits employees by protecting the interests of MH Construction Inc. to safeguard confidential, unique, and valuable information from competitors or others.

Should an occasion arise in which you are unsure of your obligations under this policy, it is your responsibility to consult with the president of the company. Failure to comply with this policy could result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

Company Vehicle Policies and Procedures

1. Eligibility to drive a company vehicle

Employees eligible to drive a company vehicle are selected at the discretion of the company. Prior to vehicle assignment, eligible employees must prove that he or she has a valid driver's license which is not suspended or revoked. MHC will also review your driving record and will periodically run a Motor Vehicle Record (MVR), as a requirement of our insurance carrier, during your assignment of a vehicle.

2. Driver responsibilities

If for any reason, an employee's driver's license is revoked, suspended, or restricted, it is mandatory that a MH Construction manager be notified immediately.

3. Scope of use

a. Assigned Driver – No person other than the employee assigned to the vehicle shall operate the vehicle. Unless that person is an employee of MH Construction, is listed on the approved driver list, and has permission from the person to whom the vehicle is assigned or from a supervisor.

b. Possession, transportation and or consumption of alcohol or drugs by anyone in the vehicle is not allowed.

c. Drivers and all passengers must wear available personal restraints.

d. Report any accident immediately to police and MHC management.

e. Personal Use of Company Vehicles – Company-owned vehicles are to be used for company business only. Personal use of a company vehicle is prohibited. Personal trailers, including boats and recreational vehicles, are not to be pulled. Company vehicles may be driven home and used as transportation to and from work only if approved by management.

f. All company tools, equipment and electronics must be reasonably stored / secured safely, loss or theft of company property due to negligence is at the sole expense of the employee. Loss or theft of personal belongings from a company vehicle is the employee's sole responsibility.

g. No pets are allowed in company vehicles.

4. Maintenance and upkeep

Drivers are responsible for ensuring the vehicle is well maintained. The assigned driver is responsible for maintaining the vehicle's maintenance and fuel log. The assigned driver is responsible for talking to the Warehouse Manager or General Manager to find out how they want the service done for scheduled fluid changes, brake jobs, tire changes and other repairs completed. Turn in all repair receipts and maintenance records for filing in the vehicle's maintenance file. The employee is responsible for reporting any damage, faulty equipment, or other repairs needed to his / her supervisor. The employee is also responsible for making sure the equipment is safe to operate on the road. Also, replace burned out bulbs and fuses for lights, turn signals, headlights and horn immediately.

The employee is responsible for keeping company vehicles clean and orderly. At a minimum, the company vehicle must have the interior washed monthly, and the exterior washed bi-weekly.

Random Vehicle inspections will be conducted by management to insure safe serviceability. Vehicle Maintenance and Fuel logs are to be furnished to supervisors upon request. Failure to maintain a clean and orderly vehicle will result in disciplinary action up to and including termination.

5. Return of Company Property

Employees are required to return all company property upon separation of employment. Final paychecks may be withheld only as permitted by applicable law until all company property has been returned. Where allowed by law and with any required written authorization, the company may deduct or recover the value of unreturned or damaged property from an employee's final wages.

Company Vehicle Policies and Procedures Acknowledgment

This is to confirm that I have received the driver requirements policy and the personal use policy of our Company and agree to abide by the rules and regulations set forth.

I understand these policies in no way constitute a contract and cannot be construed as such, either in whole or in part.

Furthermore, I understand that management reserves the right to change, modify or cancel the contents of these policies in whole or in part at any time.

Temporary Work from Home Policy

Definition:

Telecommuting, also called teleworking, working from home, or working remotely, is a work arrangement in which an employee works outside of the office.

Employee Eligibility

Candidates for work from home arrangements must be trustworthy, disciplined, and self-motivated and possess good time management or organizational skills. Employees must sign the Work from Home Agreement and Computer/Electronic Use Agreement.

Position Eligibility

An employee may be eligible to temporarily work remotely if their duties can be met through basic hardware and software. Not all jobs can be performed from off-site locations. Typically, positions requiring face to face interaction with customers and office personnel do not meet work from home requirements.

Type of Arrangement

While employees and their supervisors have the freedom to develop arrangements tailored to employees and department needs, the following requirements must be met.

- a) Employees must be able to carry out the same duties, assignments and other worker responsibilities at their home office as they do when working on MH Construction Inc's premises.
- b) Employees must be available to attend scheduled meetings and participate in other required office activities at the home office as needed.
- c) The employee and manager will agree to the work schedule the employee will customarily maintain and the manner and frequency of communication. The employee should be reachable online or by phone within a reasonable time period during the agreed-upon work schedule.

Security

Securing data and company information should be of the utmost concern. Consistent with the organization's expectations of information security for employees working at the office, employees working from home will be expected to ensure the protection of proprietary company and customer information accessible from their home office. Steps include the use of locked file cabinets and desks, regular password maintenance and any other measures appropriate for the job and the environment. Any breach in security protocol will lead to strict and swift disciplinary action.

Equipment Furnishings and office Supplies

MH Construction Inc will provide the following office supplies/ and or furnishings for use in an employee's home office:

*Computer with applicable software
Keyboard, mouse and Monitor(s)*

Pens and notebook paper

Equipment supplied by MH Construction Inc. will be maintained by MH Construction Inc. Equipment supplied by the employee, deemed appropriate by MH Construction Inc., will be maintained by the employee. MH Construction Inc. accepts no responsibility for damage or repairs to employee-owned equipment. MH Construction Inc. reserves the right to make determinations as to appropriate equipment, subject to change at any time. Equipment supplies by MH Construction Inc. is to be used for Business purposes only. Upon termination of employment, all company property will be returned to MH Construction Inc., unless other arrangements have been made.

Procedure

Telecommuting arrangements are approved by supervisors on a case-by-case basis. Telecommuting might not be feasible within some departments or for certain positions within a department. Employees interested in working from home should discuss the matter with their supervisors.

Telecommuting can be informal, such as working from home for a short-term project or on the road during business travel. Other informal, short-term arrangements may be made for employees on family or medical leave, to the extent practical for the employee and the organization, and with the consent of the employee's health care provider, if appropriate. All informal telecommuting arrangements are made on a case-by-case basis, focusing on the business needs of the organization first. Such informal arrangements are not the focus of this policy.

Other Requirements/Restrictions

While working remotely, employees must adhere to all the conditions in the Employee Handbook. All company policies around conduct, electronics use, confidentiality, sick leave, etc., continue to apply regardless of physical work location.

Disciplinary actions will follow policy transgressions of any kind.

MH Construction Inc. has the right to cancel or suspend employee work-from-home privileges at any time, for any reason, or for no reason. Every effort will be made to provide 30 days' notice of such change to accommodate commuting, childcare, and other needs that may arise from such a change. There may be instances, however, where no notice is possible.

Return of Company Property

Employees are required to return all company property upon separation of employment. Final paychecks may be withheld only as permitted by applicable law until all company property has been returned. Where allowed by law and with any required written authorization, the company may deduct or recover the value of unreturned or damaged property from an employee's final wages.

- Unauthorized, illegal, or disruptive activities (including hacking or network scanning) are strictly prohibited.
- Company resources may not be used for personal financial gain, political lobbying, or outside ventures.

Consequences

- Violations of this policy may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.
- Employees found to have downloaded or installed malicious software will be subject to disciplinary action.

- Unauthorized disclosure of confidential or proprietary information may result in legal action.

Procedures for Reporting Violations

- Employees must report any violations of this policy to their supervisor or the IT department.
- All reports will be investigated promptly and fairly.
- Confidentiality will be maintained to the extent possible throughout the investigation process.

Employee Acknowledgment and Agreement of Computer and Electronics Use Policy

Employment Basics

Personal Information

It is important that the personnel records of MH Construction Inc. be accurate at all times. All employees are required to inform MH Construction Inc. if they have a change in any of the following: Name, Address, Phone number/Cell number, Person to be notified in case of an emergency, email address, and Marital Status/Dependents

MH Construction Inc. does not give out personal employee information.

Employment Categories

Probationary -- All newly hired employees are considered probationary employees until completing 90 days of employment AND receive a satisfactory evaluation from management.

Part Time -- A part-time Employee is one who works less than 30 hours per week. The hours must be approved on a weekly basis if they exceed 30 hours per week. Part-time employees are paid on a per hour basis and may not be eligible for company benefits. Part-time employees are eligible to accrue paid time off. Part-time employees must accurately track their daily time worked by weekly timecards.

Temporary -- A temporary employee is one who is retained on a limited time basis as needed and is called upon from time to time for special projects. Temporary employees may not be eligible for company benefits. Temporary employees must accurately track their daily time worked by weekly timecards.

Non-Exempt (Hourly) -- A non-exempt employee is one who works more than 30 hours per week. Non-exempt employees are paid on a per hour basis. Non-exempt employees are expected to maintain an in and out time record of daily time worked by weekly timecards. These positions are eligible for overtime pay if more than 40 hours are worked in a workweek. Any overtime or nonstandard hours must be approved, before they occur, by the employee's job superintendent or management.

Exempt (Salaried) -- These positions are excluded from the overtime provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act. An employee who is classified as exempt is paid a salary, regardless of the number of hours it takes to complete weekly tasks. Salaried employees are eligible for the same benefits as full-time employees, apart from overtime compensation or compensation time. Your salary takes into consideration your skill level as well as the hours your job demands.

Probationary Period

An employee hired by MH Construction Inc. will be on probation for the first 90 days. This will be set up by your supervisor at the time of hire. The probationary period is the final phase of the selection process and is used to ensure that the new employee possesses the technical and interpersonal skills needed to perform the job satisfactorily and to interact successfully with the MH Construction Inc. team. Failure to receive a satisfactory evaluation during or at the end of this probationary period will result in termination.

Work Schedules

The normal MH Construction Inc. work week is Monday through Friday. Operating hours for field employees are between 7:00AM and 3:30PM. Normal office hours are from 7:00AM. to 4:00PM. Every full-time employee is expected to work at least an 8-hour day, five days a week. There may be an agreement between a supervisor and employee to modify this schedule if it meets management approval.

Field employees are expected to arrive at their assigned job sites ready to work, not to the office, at the start of the day.

Office Employees are expected to arrive to the office at the start of the day.

Full-time employees are allowed a 30-minute lunch period. Part-time employees' lunches are scheduled as needed. All breaks offered will be in accordance with state laws.

If the company requires you to work through your lunch period, the company will pay for your lunch period.

If you are going to be late, you must contact your supervisor as well as the General Manager. Failure to do so will result in a verbal warning. After 1 verbal warning your employee status will be under review and subject to termination.

Attendance

Chronic, habitual, and/or excessive lateness or absenteeism will not be tolerated. Lateness, absenteeism, and failure to follow call-in procedures are causes for disciplinary actions up to and including termination.

MH Construction Inc. has some very busy months (usually March-September). During this time, employees are required to be available for longer, busier days. We discourage vacations being taken during these months but will do our best to accommodate requests.

When reporting sick to work, make sure you report to the General Manager as well as the superintendent that you are assigned to work with that day. If you are a super or are working on a site by yourself, report to the General Manager, Manpower coordinator or the President of the company.

Holidays

MH Construction recognizes the following eight holidays and will be closed on the following days:

- New Year's Day
- Memorial Day
- Independence Day
- Labor Day
- Veterans Day
- Thanksgiving Day
- Day after Thanksgiving
- Christmas Day

If your job requires you to work on one of these holidays, you may be paid overtime.

Paid Holidays for all Employees

MH Construction recognizes the following nine holidays as paid Holidays for all employees:

- New Year's Day
- Memorial Day
- Independence Day
- Labor Day
- Veterans Day
- Thanksgiving Day
- Day after Thanksgiving
- Christmas Day
- Floating Holiday

Should a holiday fall on a Saturday, the preceding Friday will be considered the paid holiday; if a holiday falls on a Sunday, the following Monday will be considered the paid holiday. Employees who work in a department that regularly operates 7 days a week will be scheduled for an alternate day off if they work on the holiday. Employees who do not perform any work during the week in which a paid holiday occurs, and who are not using approved PTO or sick time during that week, are not eligible to receive holiday pay.

If your job requires you to work on one of these holidays, you may be paid overtime.

If a paid holiday occurs during your vacation, you will not be charged for a vacation day. If you choose, your vacation can be extended by an additional day.

Personal Time Off (PTO)

Personal Time is any time an employee is not at work during their normal work schedule. This time can be used for sicknesses, vacation, compassionate leave, maternity leave, or ANY other reason an employee is not at work.

Arrangements for personal time off must be made with the employee's supervisor as far in advance as possible. At least 2 weeks' notice is required for scheduling more than 2 days personal time off. All personal time off must be made on a request form provided and approved by your supervisor.

When reporting sick to work, make sure you report to the superintendent that you are assigned to work with that day. If you are a superintendent or are working on a site by yourself, report to the manpower coordinator or to management. Submit a leave request form to the office for that time.

If conflicts arise due to overlapping time off requests, management will decide on a case-by-case basis. A reasonable effort will be made to give you the time off per your request, however, due to departmental workload, there may be times of the year when extended personal time off cannot be accommodated.

A physician's note is required for employees missing 3 or more days of work due to illness.

PTO is separate from Sick Time accrual and no PTO will carry forward to the next year. PTO allocation resets January 1st of each year.

A Leave of Absence is an approved period of inactive employment. Although part or all of an approved Leave of Absence may be unpaid, your benefits will continue in effect during this period provided you pay all required premiums (for the full amount of the premium) on a timely basis. If your absence is subject to the Family Medical Leave Act, the employer portion of your benefit premiums will continue to be paid by MH Construction Inc. for up to 12 weeks. You will be responsible for the employee portion of the premium owed.

Maternity leave is considered a leave of absence as defined above; except that an employee may first use all accumulated personal time prior to any leave of absence.

MH Construction Inc. supports your right to vote and urges you to do so. Salaried employees will be allowed up to one hour off with pay for voting in state and federal elections, providing you get your supervisor's approval in advance.

Employees who are required to be absent for military duty will be accorded all benefits provided by law. Any employee who is required to take a leave of absence for military duty must provide military orders related to the expected absence.

Accrual and Distribution of PTO

Hourly and Salaried Employees are eligible for PTO. Personal time is allocated according to the length of service and to the date of hire as follows:

At date of hire	40 hours PTO
1 st of following calendar year after hire date	80 hours PTO
1 st of second calendar year after hire date	80 hours PTO

PTO allocation resets January 1st of each year.

Hourly employees, when your personal time is used up and you are not at work, you will not be paid for the time missed from work.

Employees may not carry forward any PTO hours remaining into the next calendar year unless authorized in writing by management.

Salaried Employees, when your personal time is used up and you are not at work for a full day, or if no work is performed for an entire work week, you will not be paid for the time missed from work.

PTO does not count as hours worked and does not count towards overtime.

Travel

If employees are required to use their own vehicle for company business, they will be reimbursed for their fuel. This does not include daily travel to the job site. Related parking expenses for a company-approved trip will be reimbursed with presentation of a receipt. Receipts should be turned in during the pay period in which they occur. Traffic and parking violations will not be reimbursed. Expenses other than in-town job-related travel by staff members must be pre-approved.

If you must entertain prospective clients or others while on a trip, you are expected to keep the expenses reasonable. You will be reimbursed for these expenses if they are reasonable. These expenses must be pre-approved by the President.

If you use your personal vehicle for a company errand or trip, you must be prepared to take all legal or civil responsibility for your driving as well as ensure that your vehicle is in safe driving condition. The company will not be responsible for any accident, theft, or other occurrences when you are using your own vehicle. The fuel reimbursement you receive includes wear and tears as well as insurance for the miles that you use your car. You may not use your vehicle for a company errand or trip if you do not have insurance to cover any potential accident, theft, or other vehicle related occurrence. By using your own vehicle, you agree to indemnify the company from any liability due to your own driving. You are not to use your vehicle or a rental vehicle for a company errand or any other company travel unless you are fully insured, so as not to cause the company any liability.

Personal Phone Calls, Mail, & E-mails

The use of a company email address is for company business only. Do not provide your company email for personal communications or personal online accounts.

Management reserves the right to monitor e-mail and to have all passwords and access codes for files created on company time or for the company's benefit.

If any unauthorized employee accesses another employee's files, company records, e-mail or voice mail without specific authorization, they may be subject to a warning or termination depending upon the severity of the access.

Limit the number of personal calls made or taken during business hours. Keep your conversations under 3 minutes so as not to tie up the business lines.

If you want someone to know your personal phone number at home, please provide him or her with that information. MH Construction Inc. does not release such personal information to outside callers.

Long-distance personal calls should not be made on business lines. Obtain your supervisors' approval if you need to make a personal long-distance call on the business line. You will be expected to reimburse MH Construction Inc. for the call.

All personal mail must be directed to your home. Personal business activities are not to be conducted during working hours.

Performance Reviews

Your performance will be reviewed during and at the end of your 90-day probationary period as well as yearly, throughout your employment. If your performance is found satisfactory following the probationary period, you may become a fully participating staff member eligible for group benefits, as outlined in the employee categories.

All employees should know how they are performing on the job and what steps they might take to improve their job performance. Each employee's performance will be reviewed at regular intervals. At the time of review, the employee will meet with their immediate supervisor to discuss strengths and weaknesses, career development, goals, and objectives. A written review will be placed in the employee's personnel file after that discussion. The employee will be asked to sign this document to acknowledge the discussion with their supervisor. A copy will also be given to the employee for their personal files.

Pay increases are not part of the review process unless indicated by your supervisor. All pay increases are based on merit.

If a review is required due to poor or nonperformance of all or part of the employee's job, or due to noncompliance with company policies, an employee may be placed on probation and/or placed on a Performance Improvement Plan (PIP), for a period to be determined by their supervisor.

Disciplinary Process

Employees are expected to conduct themselves in accordance with generally acceptable work behaviors. Disciplinary action will depend on the circumstances surrounding the violation and will include termination if necessary. Your employment is not guaranteed for any specified length of time. MH Construction Inc. reserves the right to terminate employees with or without cause.

Termination/Resignation

Your employment is not guaranteed for any specified length of time. You have the right to terminate your employment with or without cause and MH Construction Inc. reserves the right to terminate employees with or without cause.

If you should decide to voluntarily leave MH Construction Inc., you are expected to provide 2 weeks notice before terminating your employment. If you do not give this notice, your supervisor may require immediate departure. Any keys or other property of MH Construction Inc. must be turned in upon termination. If company property is not returned before employment is terminated, the estimated value of the property may be deducted from the employee's final check.

After employment at MH Construction Inc., former employees may not utilize proprietary knowledge, software, software routines, customer lists, or other assets of the company, which are the properties of MH Construction Inc., for the benefit of other companies or non-MH Construction Inc. staff.

When you leave MH Construction Inc. you may be asked to participate in an exit interview. The exit interview gathers a variety of information and assists MH Construction Inc. in addressing employee problems and concerns and explaining various benefits that may extend beyond the date of separation.

Compensation

Time Keeping Policy

The Federal Government requires that MH Construction Inc. maintain accurate time tracking for hourly employees. All employees are expected to keep track of their hours worked. Any unauthorized employee who alters the report of another employee's time worked will be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination.

MH Construction utilizes HH2 software for generating timesheets for each employee. A username and password will be given to each new employee on their first day of employment.

Employees should not rely on their supervisors to be responsible for entering their time in HH2. HH2 time must be entered daily and signed as complete and accurate on Fridays by end of day. Time will be approved by supervisors Monday morning, after the last day of the pay period.

Failure to turn in time sheets will result in progressive disciplinary action. Disciplinary measures may include a verbal warning, written warning, disciplinary suspension, or termination of employment.

Regular Pay

Employee benefits are a significant part of your total compensation.

Paychecks are distributed weekly, five business days after the end of the weekly pay period. When the distribution day falls on a holiday, paychecks will be distributed on the preceding business day.

Overtime

Overtime is defined as time worked beyond a forty-hour period from Monday through Sunday. Hourly waged employees will be compensated on a time and a half basis for overtime. Employees are to complete their daily and weekly assignments during regular office hours.

Non-exempt employees are eligible for overtime for all hours worked that exceed 40 in any work week. It is expected that an employee will comply with any reasonable requests to work overtime. MH Construction Inc. will also try to give you as much notice as possible when overtime is necessary. All overtime designated by your manager is approved overtime. If an employee works overtime without approval, the overtime must be paid, however the employee may be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination.

Exempt employees will not be paid on an overtime basis and may be asked to work extra hours as business demands, or if otherwise necessary.

Bonuses & Incentives

Bonus or Incentive pay is additional compensation paid to an employee, or group of employees, in addition to their normal rate of pay. This additional compensation may be granted under specific, limited circumstances.

Garnishment of Wages

MH Construction Inc. honors wage garnishments. Employees will be notified immediately when garnishment orders are received from the courts or other governing agencies.

Return of Company Property & Final Paycheck

Employees are required to return all company property upon separation of employment. Final paychecks may be withheld only as permitted by applicable law until all company property has been returned. Where allowed by law and with any required written authorization, the company may deduct or recover the value of unreturned or damaged property from an employee's final wages.

Employee Benefits

Disclaimer

Willfully making a false statement for the purpose of obtaining or denying benefits may result in criminal prosecution and termination of employment.

Eligibility

Employees shall work a minimum 30-hour work week to be entitled to benefits.

Medical Insurance

MH Construction Inc offers medical insurance to all full-time employees. Details of the plans may be found in the Benefit Booklet. This Handbook does not constitute such a legal document. The Company offers medical coverage for eligible employees and their eligible dependents. These programs are administered by a major medical insurance carrier or health maintenance organization (HMO). An employee's contribution for coverage will be deducted from your salary based on your benefit selections. Your summary plan description (SPD) contains more details about these plans. For more details, please refer to the specific SPD that governs each of the plans. In the event of any conflict between the information contained in this Handbook and in the Company's SPDs, the SPDs shall govern. These plans are subject to change at the Company's discretion. Additionally, the amount that you may be required to contribute towards the premiums for any of these plans may be changed at the Company's discretion.

Waiting Period for Medical Coverage

Full-time employees are eligible to participate in the various medical insurance programs offered by the Company after fulfilling a 60-day probation period, in which benefits will begin the first of the following month. Periodically there will be an Open Enrollment period, determined by the Insurance Company. If you decline to participate in these programs on your initial eligibility date, you may request entry into the plan during Open Enrollment or Special Enrollment (described below).

Employee Contributions for Medical Coverage

The Company's benefit package is contributory; that is, you are responsible for a portion (25%) of the premium for your benefits. If you choose to have insurance coverage for more than just yourself under the plan, you will be responsible for 100% of the additional premium. A portion of the premium, up to a maximum per month, is contributed by the Company. Your contributory cost is deducted from your paycheck.

Late Applicants for Medical Coverage

At the time you are hired, you are given an opportunity to elect certain benefits. If you waive participation in any of those programs for either yourself or your eligible dependents, you will generally be allowed to apply for entry into the various plans only during Open Enrollment.

Open Enrollment for Medical Coverage

The Open Enrollment period allows employees to add or change their benefits coverage. Applications for medical insurance may be submitted during this period. Changes, additions and other elections made during Open Enrollment will take effect on the effective date following the Open Enrollment period. Once you have made a change, you cannot change that selection until the next Open Enrollment period (except in the case of a major life status change; see Special Enrollment).

Special Enrollment for Medical Coverage

A "qualifying event," such as certain life status changes--marriage, birth or adoption of a child or involuntary loss of medical and/or dental coverage, etc.--may allow entry into a plan as long as application for coverage is made within 30 days of the qualifying event. For specific details regarding Special Enrollment, please refer to your Summary Plan Description.

Continuation of Health Coverage

Federal law generally requires employers with 20 or more employees to give employees, spouses and dependent children the right to continue group health benefits for limited periods of time under certain circumstances, such as voluntary or some types of involuntary job loss, reduction in hours worked, death, divorce, and other life events. Employees ordinarily may continue their health coverage for up to 18 months when their employment is terminated.

PMLA (PFML & WA Cares)

Starting Jan 2019, all employees will have premiums withheld from their paycheck to contribute to Washington Paid Family and Medical Leave fund as well as the WA cares fund. These are state ran short term coverage programs. You must file with the state upon qualifying.

Workers' Compensation Insurance & Pay

To provide for payment of your medical expenses and for partial salary continuation in the event of a work-related accident or illness, you are covered by workers' compensation insurance, provided by the Company, and based on state regulations. The amount of benefits payable, as well as the duration of payments, depends upon the nature of your injury or illness. However, all medical expenses incurred in connection with an on-the-job injury or illness and partial salary payments are paid in accordance with applicable state law. If you are injured or become ill on the job, you must immediately report the injury or illness to your manager and the Human Resources Department. This ensures that the Company can help you obtain appropriate medical treatment. Your failure to follow this procedure may delay your benefits or may even jeopardize your receipt of benefits. Questions regarding workers' compensation insurance should be directed to the Human Resources Department.

Social Security & Medicare

Through Social Security, you and your family are protected against loss of work income due to retirement, disability, or death. Medicare protects you against the increasing medical expenses associated with aging. All employees participate in the Social Security program. You and MH Construction Inc. both contribute on your behalf.

Unemployment Compensation

The U.S. Department of Labor's unemployment insurance programs provide unemployment benefits to eligible workers who become unemployed through no fault of their own and meet certain other eligibility requirements.

Unemployment insurance is a joint state-federal program that provides cash benefits to eligible workers. Each state administers a separate unemployment insurance program, but all states follow the same guidelines established by federal law.

This plan, administered by the state and federal governments, is financed by employers and a small portion by the employee, through payroll taxes.

401K Retirement Plan

The 401(k) plan is a workplace retirement plan. It allows workers to defer a certain portion of their wages into a retirement account, which they can then invest for the future. In return, workers get certain tax advantages both in the short term and the long term.

Employees become eligible to contribute to the 401k plan after 12 months of employment. Employees can contribute between 1% to 90% of their eligible compensation, either before or after taxes. MH Construction will match 100% of your salary deferrals up to the first 3% and 50% of your salary deferrals on the next 2% of your eligible compensation.

Miscellaneous

Gifts and Tips

Employees are not to accept gifts, tips, gratuities, or special favors from customers or vendors. Employees are prohibited from soliciting money, gifts, or special favors from other employees or their families.

MH Construction Inc. realizes that there may be certain solicitations, such as school fundraisers, that employees would like to make available to their colleagues. Contact your supervisor before bringing any solicitation to your workplace.

Information Posting

MH Construction Inc. has a bulletin board where important notices are posted. It is your responsibility to read the bulletin board on a regular basis and be aware of posted items.

Outside Employment

If while employed with MH Construction Inc. an employee becomes involved in other employment, it is essential that their primary commitment is given to MH Construction Inc. This commitment includes honoring your work schedule at MH Construction Inc. While employed at MH Construction Inc., an employee may not utilize talents and/or knowledge, gained through employment at MH Construction Inc., company equipment, software, or other assets of the company for the benefit of another company or non-MH Construction Inc. staff, without the express permission of the MH Construction Inc. President.

Inclement Weather

MH Construction Inc. functions best when all employees are at work, so it is important to report to work as scheduled. If hazardous weather conditions exist, MH Construction Inc. expects you to use good judgment and your supervisor will take that into consideration if you do not arrive on time.

Safety

Safety is always a top priority at MH Construction. Safe work practices and good housekeeping habits are responsibilities each of us share. We provide our clients and ourselves with a safer environment by keeping areas clear and hazard-free and not taking unnecessary risks. MH Construction follows all relevant OSHA safety and health standards. Each job site will have specific OSHA guidelines and regulations that must always be adhered to while on site. The Superintendent of the site will conduct a daily Job Hazard Analysis, aka Tailgate, for the scope of work to be done that day.

Tools

Employees must have permission from the President to use any company tools for personal use. Field employees must have the hand tools that are always required of their trade with them during work.

All field employees are expected to have the following personal tools available to them while at work as a condition of their employment:

- | | |
|---|---|
| ☐ Hammer | ☐ Framing Square |
| ☐ Small sledgehammer | ☐ Plumb bob |
| ☐ Tin snips | ☐ Cats paw/pry bar |
| ☐ Tape measure 25' | ☐ Crescent wrench |
| ☐ Tape measure 100' | ☐ 5 in 1 screwdriver |
| ☐ Dry line | ☐ Handsaw |
| ☐ Chalk line | ☐ Drill bit index |
| ☐ Nail bags | ☐ Nail sets |
| ☐ Speed Square | ☐ Utility knife |
| ☐ Pencils | ☐ Wood Chisel |
| ☐ Torpedo level | ☐ Linesman pliers |
| ☐ 2' level | ☐ Hacksaw |
| ☐ 4' level | ☐ Sliding T bevel |

All field employees shall have available to them on any job site the tools found on the MHC employee tool list. This is a minimal set of hand tools that any carpenter should have.

Any employee not already possessing these tools should make provisions within 2 months to acquire them. If this creates a financial burden, then MHC will make a short-term loan to the employee with paycheck withholding to assist the employee in acquiring these tools within the time provided.

Return of Company Property & Final Paycheck

Employees are required to return all company property upon separation of employment. Final paychecks may be withheld only as permitted by applicable law until all company property has been returned. Where allowed by law and with any required written authorization, the company may deduct or recover the value of unreturned or damaged property from an employee's final wages.

Company Vehicle Policies and Procedures Acknowledgement

This is to confirm that I have received the driver requirements policy and the personal use policy of our Company and agree to abide by the rules and regulations set forth.

I understand these policies in no way constitute a contract and cannot be construed as such, either in whole or in part.

Furthermore, I understand that management reserves the right to change, modify or cancel the contents of these policies in whole or in part at any time.
